DR NEWMAN ON INFALLIBILITY

From the Boston Advertiser

Perhaps the Pope and the ultramontanists will hardly thank Dr John Henry Newman for his reply in the form of a letter to the Duke of Norfolk to Mr Gladstone's pamphlet There has been no more interesting book from any Catholic pen in good while for it displays anything like the liberality which took off the edge of Dr Newman's famous sermon on the Second Spring of the Church and fortified all the Catholics who were disposed to be loyal to the Queen and the laws of England with the assurance that they could be loyal to the Queen and the laws of England without ceasing to be Catholics

It is not to be controverted by argument that the supremacy claimed by the Pope over the Catholic Church is not only a departure from the primitive usage of the Church but is also a usurpation of the rights of sovereign princes and of the liberties of the people which is likely to lead to the most serious consequences Dr Newman's book will do all in the power of a single man to prevent the success of the scheme which Italy for the purpose of restoring the temporal power of the Pope has undertaken to carry out in defiance of the public opinion of the civilized world and of the Catholic Church itself

It is clear that the Pope and the Ultramontanists have determined to make the Church and the Faith the instruments of political ambition and to use the power which they possess over the consciences of the faithful for the purpose of establishing the temporal power of the Pope by force of arms Dr Newman's book is a protest against this use of the Church and the Faith and it will be read with interest by all who desire to see the Church and the Faith kept free from political entanglements

TWO OPINIONS.

The Daily Bulletin of Portland Oregon says

"Where is the man in Oregon who knows gallant Phil Sheridan defending the people from ruffian savages and always an honorable brave true man who will say that Sheridan would misrepresent affairs at New Orleans? What object could he have in doing so?"

And here is what that religious organ the Memphis Appeal has to say of the same officer

"Hereafter he will be known as Supersavagerable Dan Sheridan to be courtmartialed in the army only until a Democratic Congress shall order him before a committee presided over by Senator Gordon to whom he shall render his accustomation as a disgraced soldier with the ineffaceable brand of liar burned to his very heart

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

A New Orleans correspondent of a Republican paper has this characteristic remark to him by White Leaguer Captain

"Any young man has better temper your language when he talks to me of such flowers as you"

Gleason's Gazette says it is evident that the only way to deal with the Louisiana cases is to leave the United States Supreme Court to decide for a provision of the statute for that purpose is to be by that court declared unconstitutional from the beginning and all its decisions void

A Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller says Senator Sherman is the only man in the Senate who has the confidence of both sides—the friends of the Administration and the opposition

The Washington Chronicle says Hannibal Hamlin's election as his successor in the United States Senate by the Legislature of Maine is no surprise to anyone He has never lost his control of congressional patronage and he has expended those powers in the most judicious manner Maine has a wonderfully clear vision and a tenacious memory in political matters and is not likely to forget the services of the people of the whole country for the character of its representatives in the Senate during the last twenty years Fessenden Hamlin and Morrill have made a noble record for the State and for the nation at large

THE NEXT SPEAKERSHIP Speaker Blaine who is one of the readiest and most brilliant writers in Washington society and has the reputation of saying more bright things than any member of either House rallied Hunch at the expense of the Democratic candidates for the Speakership today It happened by chance that there were gathered about him Kerr Cox Fernando Wood Randall Clymer and two or three others who are looked upon as possible successors of Mr Blaine and they began to rally him upon the doleful prospects of the Republican party He replied Gentlemen I am like a cross-eyed schoolmaster up in my country in Maine, who exclaimed one day that boy I am now looking at, I want him to rise immediately and stand up in his place, and twenty-seven boys stood up simultaneously in different parts of the schoolroom Now, added Mr Blaine, if I should ask who is to be the next Speaker, at least seven of you gentlemen would look very hard at once —Washington Correspondence of New York Herald

THE TILTON-BEECHER CASE.

More of Moulton

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 Ex-Judge Porter has been advised by his physician to refrain for the present from continuing the cross-examination of Moulton, but will be present to-day and guide Tracy in so doing It is believed that Moulton will be kept on the stand till Thursday It is believed that Ben Butler will join Judge Fullerton in cross-examining Tracey, to prove that he, Tracey, used the information as Moulton's counsel in a government case to the latter's detriment in this case Butler and Fullerton are to make a complaint against Tracey as soon as the trial is ended. The same crowd of people filled the Brooklyn court room this morning who have occupied it during the previous days of the trial, and very few new faces are to be observed in the throng. The Beecher party and Mrs. Tilton and her friends were absent when the trial commenced Mr. Evarts apologized for the absence of ex-Judge Porter, who was unable to come out, owing to the severe weather prevailing. Mr. Moulton resumed the stand.

AFFAIRS IN LOUISIANA.

The Southern Chivalry at Their Sports

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 The New Orleans special to the Times says The fight in the Republican rooms commenced by Wickes, Assistant Secretary of State, calling Pearle, one of the Tax Collectors, a thief, liar, &c. This was followed by one of the fierce struggles ever witnessed The display of arms was unique Wickes who snapped pistol three times at his opponent then rushed upon him dealing a terrible blow on the head All of the men in the room having fled except Charles Beattie it was impossible to separate the combatants Pauls drew a bowie knife in the fight and cut his antagonist several times in the back and sides, and completely severed the muscles and arteries of his arm Wickes attempted to shoot Pauls upon the floor but rising again rushed upon Pauls, only again to receive the knife in his side Lying prostrated with Pauls standing over him, Wickes made several attempts to shoot Pauls each time stabbed by his adversaries and was finished dead Pauls delivered himself to the police

THE ANGEL OF THE TWILIGHT.

Where the long evenings starting grow
In crystal rafters over the beach,
The roofs of heaven are almost in reach
As I think of my sorrow of long ago.

Once more an old grief comes and wrestles,
As Jacob wrestled at Jabbok's ford—
A dumb resistance with never a word,
But the shadow burdening down the trestles.

And a long foreboding that seemed to grieve,
Like the soldier who over his pallet hears
The whisper of patient suffering tears,
Before he is used to the empty sleeve.

As I kissed and cried over a cold, still face,
In her bridal robes, on her bridal bed,
And I ever repeated, She is not dead,
She will come out of her nesting place,

With flash of laughter and wreathing arms,
The man-child's fashion on the cheek of the wife;
She will come back to me, life in life,
In the dower of womanhood's bridal charms.

Or a coming step, I whispered, is hers,
She sings the songs that she used to sing,
She comes, like the blossom exhaling spring,
Through violet bed and the clover furze,

And the still waved dream shall a vigil keep
The whole night long that she settles near,
Her warm breath fanning my cheek and ear
As I lie in her lock-light arms of sleep.

If I seek her by day with the voice of hand,
It ends in a doleful, even song,
Of a tale of an ancient forgotten wrong,
To children who do not understand.

But after the twilight sheds its bloom
Far over the earth, down about her feet
The unseen angels at sun go at my beat,
As I roll the stone from the mouth of the tomb

And so it comes in the dews of a paradise,
A balmy blessing around me steals,
I feel her presence as one that feels
The gentle light upon closed eyes.

So when the evenings starting grow
In crystal rafters o'er the beach,
The roofs of heaven are almost in reach
As I think of my sorrow of long ago.

THE FASHIONS.

Harper's Bazar has the following interesting items in its fashion column:

The latest imported novelty in opera cloaks is the circular of white Sicilienne, lined throughout with soft, pliable white fox fur, and bordered with the same.

That round garment will be worn again is proven by the fact that seal-skin circulars are already being ordered by leaders of fashion. These are round capes reaching well over the roll-collar, and shaped so as to fit the shoulders perfectly, while the sides fold over the arms as closely as sleeves do. It is loosely bordered with unplucked otter, such a mantle costs $250.

Fur trimmings are more worn this season than they have been for years. Ladies who have a variety of wraps and changes of furs have whole suits bordered with any fashionable fur, or else they add a muffled or fur-lined sacque of the silk of which their costume is made, and border it with fur.

The fur hats most worn by ladies are of seal-skin, and are called the Marchioness and the Clarence. They have soft crowns and rolling brims. A sacque of seal or a set of boa and muff should accompany such hats. There is a pretty fancy for tying a ribbon of gros grain around the muff in the middle and fastening with a short square bow in front. The edges of seal muffs are also bound with the fur, and have a bow of thick ribbon.

Seal-skin is the leading fur for gentlemen's caps, collars and gloves. The newest cap is called the Cossack. This has a very high, soft crown, almost pointed on the top, and wide brim rolled upward all around. Prices range from $10 upwards for handsome caps. Otter and beaver caps are also shown, but are comparatively little worn.

Luxurious robes of fur are chosen for carriages, and their selection is a matter of taste. For the small, dark coupes that ladies of fashion now like for morning calls, shopping, etc., dark brown beaver robes and light shades are the most stylish. With the large family coach used for driving on the avenue and in the park, the stately robe is of white fox fur, long and soft, while for sleighing is that of the white polar bear, the wolverine, and various others. Fur robes are also fashionable for children's carriages, and may be found of prices ranging from $6 to $30.

The Paris correspondent of the same paper contributes the following:

The change that seems most certain for the coming season is that of bonnets, they are now in preparation on straw with large brims extending over the forehead, and consequently trimmed on the inside. It seems as wise and logical to wear bonnets in the summer that will shield us from the sun that I have greatness that shall shield will fall at the last moment, nevertheless it is my duty to speak of it. My information is less positive concerning bonnet crowns. Formerly hair-dressers were obliged to arrange the hair so that it would fit into the crown of the bonnet; now they revenge themselves for their long despotism by a depression so less arbitrary, and decree that the crowns shall be either inflated to the extreme of ugliness, or cut open or absolished altogether to give room for their superstructures of hair.

After bonnets come dresses. It is my opinion that the polonaise proper will exist only as a memory in the coming spring, but the combination of two fabrics—silk and velvet, wool and velvet, wool and silk—which has been used to such good advantage to produce such an admirable effect, will still continue. For instance, instead of having a skirt of silk and a polonaise of wool, the dress will be of silk, with wool trimmings, or else the dress will be of wool, with trimmings of silk. For some time longer the trimmings will situate overskirts in the varied forms that they have assumed for several seasons past.

GILES'

LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA.

A MESSAGE TO THE SUFFERING.

When a remedy is productive of such relief as to excel all other remedies in its curative qualities, it is a duty to make it known as generally as possible. This consideration has actuated the proprietor, Wm. M. Giles, to bring before the public his Liniment Iodide Ammonia.

The remarkable cures it has effected in one of the most important and valuable discovered for the cure and relief of any form, it cures Neuralgia, Face-ache, Gout, Frosted Feet, Chilblains, Sprains, Bruises and Wounds, in which the effects of external application is recognized remedy. No family can really be deemed safe that is not supplied with it.

To append a few of the many testimonials bearing testimony to the universal favor with which this Liniment has been received by the public.

Testimonials.

In stiffness and soreness of the muscles and joints, rheumatic pains, I have experienced immediate relief from GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA.

THOMAS HAIGH, Wallack's Theatre.

For headache, hoarseness, sore throat, inflamed joints, and the feet, GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA gave immediate relief.

HENRY MONTAGUE, Booth's Theatre

Mr. Wm. M. Giles, Chemist, 557 Sixth Avenue: I suffered with rheumatic pains in my limbs and joints, and found no relief until I tried your Liniment Iodide of Ammonia, with immediate relief. Am now cured.

ROBERT H. SMITH,
Head Waiter-man on board Steamer Jesse Hoyt

Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia is a sure cure for ague in the breast, and removes all swellings and hard lumps.

A NURSING MOTHER.

New Haven, Aug. 7, 1874

Dr. Giles.—While on duty as fireman on engine 47, about ten miles from this city, on Shore Line Road, was accidentally thrown off against a rock, tearing muscle full length, about eighteen inches an inch deep. Was very much bruised. Your agent was on board. He furnished me with two bottles of Liniment Iodide of Ammonia, from which I received the greatest possible benefit. In four days I was at work with my usual energy. Yours, truly,

WM. H. GILBERT,
Veterinary Surgeon, 25th West 25th St.

Boston, July 13, 1874

Mr. Wm. M. Giles.—In the match between the Actives and Old Ladies' Hall Club, played on Boston Club grounds, 13th, 1874, I fell and dislocated my left knee-cap. Your agent fortunately happened to be present. He instantly applied your Liniment, and with instant relief.

HARRY C. SHAFFER,
Boston Base Ball Club

Boston, Sept. 24, 1874.

Mr. William M. Giles, Chemist: Dear Sir—Your Agent, Mr. Guy S. Fessey, called on me early in July, and recommended your GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE OF AMMONIA. Being a skeptic in regard to the great variety of articles sent for the cure of all sorts of diseases, I had no faith in your medicine, but, after a long time, was induced to try it, and, to my surprise, found that I had a Nerve Pain among the muscles that I also had on my left shoulder, near forward leg. I took him at his thought it would remove that bunch. I would try it. Shortly after I commenced to use it, I was perfectly relieved of the present pain, and I now find it entirely removed, and think it will shortly disappear entirely. From this trial of your remedy I cheerfully recommend it to use to those who have horses to treat as I used it in this way. I would further say that, while using it for the above, the same horse started another bunch on the off leg, that, also, it was applied have entirely, and the bunch has disappeared.

"DOUBTLESS THE

Best Cough Medicine

IN THE WORLD."

(From one of the Oldest and very best Houses in America.)

Messrs. Cutter Bros. & Co.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 23, 1872

Please send to Toledo, grocers small and Five gross Compound Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam. This is doubtless the best Cough Medicine in the World. (Signed), ALLEN & CO.

P. S.—These parties have sold this Balsam for over thirty years.

(From one of Boston's most estimable citizens.)

No. 5 Worcester St., Boston, March 14, 1873

Messrs. Cutter Bros. & Co.:

In ordering another small lot of your invaluable Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam,

I should like to tell you what I know about it, in order that others may have the benefit of my EXPERIENCE.

Since this Balsam first came to my notice, in 1847, I have kept it constantly in the house, never allowing myself to be out of it a single day. In all these

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS,

it has not failed in a single instance in my own case to give the desired relief, and I will say to you in regard to my mother, whose

LIFE WAS SAVED

by it as I cannot but think. Here was a case of Congestion of the Lungs, as I also was attended by three skillful Physicians, she seemed to fail constantly, and they despaired of her recovery, when an old friend and neighbor persuaded her to try Cutter's Pulmonary Balsam. The result was a gratifying, I can say to you, and I recovery rapid, she is now over 72 years old, and is in the best of health. Whenever she gets a severe cold, which has proved more than a while, she takes it, and never fails of succeeding in the relieving of the cough, which has always yielded to it, as it was by taking the Balsam only on retiring at night with it the

IMMEDIATE

IRRITATION

is at once subdued, as I suppose, might be expected. I will mention another case, that of a young lady dear to me, who

BLED AT THE LUNGS

and congested very badly, last night was cold and was fearfully reduced. She left Boston for her country home, 75 miles away, to be supposed to die. I would have a bottle of your Balsam, and soon had the satisfaction to hear that she was much better. She continued taking it for a while and got

ENTIRELY WELL,

and is living now, which I feel to be ascribed mainly to the use of the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM. Very truly yours,

JOHN CAPEN

In case are many imitations, I be careful to get the genuine. Price, large bottles, which are much the cheaper, $1.00, small bottles, old style, 50 cents.

Consumption Can Be Cured

by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials published. None genuine unless signed "I. BUTTS" on the wrapper.
